Train to Teach

with Sunderland Nursery Schools and Partner Primaries.

Training to Teach with Sunderland Nursery Schools and Partner Primaries will give you expertise in child development, SEND support and specific areas of curriculum expertise.

To support more trainee teachers take this career path, Sunderland Nursery Schools Partnership creates opportunities for postgraduates to train as primary teachers within our schools and partner primaries.

This training is delivered through School Direct through either salaried or tuition route depending upon the availability of places. Our programmes are delivered in partnership with the University of Sunderland to develop your expertise in teaching children within the Early Years and Primary age phase.

To give you a flavour of life in an Outstanding Nursery School and help you decide if working in this fulfilling world is for you, Pennywell Early Years Centre is hosting an introductory workshop about our teacher training.
